Help students find their first apprenticeship

Apprentice Wizard · free UK apprenticeship search for students · www.apprenticewizard.co.uk

What students get for free

Search live roles. Students search current apprenticeships, work experience and insight days across the UK, with no account needed to look.

Application calendar. A public calendar of when employers open applications, so students plan ahead instead of finding out late.

Salary calculator. Students turn an hourly rate into yearly pay before tax and compare three years of earnings with university fees.

Track applications. A free account saves up to 3 active applications, with each deadline and stage in one place.

Grade checker. Students enter predicted grades to get UCAS points, then check them against a role's points requirement.

Focus timer. A basic 25-minute focus timer for application and revision sessions.

When applications open

September – November	Google, GCHQ, KPMG, PwC, EY, Deloitte BrightStart, Clifford Chance, Linklaters
October – December	Barclays, HSBC, BAE Systems, Airbus, Rolls-Royce, Dyson
January – March	BT Group, Capgemini, Accenture, IBM, Siemens, Network Rail
February – May	Civil Service Fast Stream, NHS Digital, Experian, Capital One
Rolling (year-round)	NHS Trusts (nursing, healthcare science), Civil Service (various departments)

Dates are indicative. Students should check each employer directly.

Lesson activity (30 to 40 minutes)

1. Pick a direction (5 min). Each student writes down two sectors that interest them. Say that this is a first guess, not a decision.
2. Search (10 min). Open www.apprenticewizard.co.uk, search each sector and shortlist three roles.
3. Check the closing dates (5 min). Write each role's closing date next to it. Which one is first? Put it at the top.
4. Check the entry requirements (10 min). Compare each shortlisted role with predicted grades, using the grade checker if it helps. Mark each role as met, close or not yet.
5. Plan one action (5 min). Each student writes one thing they will do this week and the date they will do it by.
